"The Bikini lounger follows my belief of sensual minimalism"

BIKINI

tonik

Unwind like Barbie and Ken on Karim Rashid's one-piece sun lounger, which has curves for days. Bikini's sculpted plastic contours look expertly nip-tucked, made in the U.S. from roto-molded polyethylene that's easy to clean plus chemically resistant to sunblock, salt, and chlorine. Water ballasting provides secure footing for tanning in the shallows of pools, with the 10-inch-high seat ensuring derrières stay dry. The sinuous form is elemental and spare, while the color range segues from pure pop—like teal-toned Malibu and chartreuse—to subdued neutrals. Ultraviolet-light stabilizers reduce fading, ensuring hues stay megawatt bright. Life in plastic? It's fantastic. tonikworld.com ➤
